Haagen Dazs Pineapple Coconut ice cream

This item is a WANT (but borders on a need!)

I try to eat healthy foods and non-processed foods most of the time but deep down I really like sweet foods and I really like creamy foods. Ice cream generally, and this product specifically, satisfies my desire to have something sweet every once in a while. There are lots of different ice creams but Haagen Dazs is particularly tasty and it satisfies my need to have a treat but at the same time stay healthy because, since it is small, I only take small scoops at a time.
