

Quilchena Reading Challenge—BONUS ROUND

Get Caught Reading . . .

You probably have a favourite place to sit and read at home. You might have a few. You might be finding, these days, that you need to seek out new, interesting places to read because your usual spots are, well, a little overused at the moment. This month, you have a BONUS Reading Challenge: to Get Caught Reading in unusual places.

Be creative! Take a photograph of yourself for as many categories as you can manage and send it to Mme Brogan or post it on the library channel on your class Team. Try to be reading a different book in each photo.

Get caught reading ...

- 📷 ... under a tree
- 📷 ... surrounded by soft things
- 📷 ... with a family member
- 📷 ... near water
- 📷 ... in public (but not too close to anybody)
- 📷 ... with your feet up
- 📷 ... wearing something that matches the cover of your book

Note: If you don't have media consent, make sure that your book is blocking your face, or that the photo is taken from behind.*

The Quilchena Reading Challenges are for all students, teachers, and parents. The categories are designed to be applicable to any and all reading levels. As a reader, you get to choose how long, how hard, and in what format the books are to complete this challenge. I trust you to make good choices for yourself.
